

SKIN MICROBIOME CARE

Efficacy results of topical synbiotic (pre- & probiotic) skin care

HEIQ
SYNBIO

- Study by Allergisa, an accredited lab for clinical skin research
- “HeiQ Synbio Skin Repair” (face cream) effect on facial skin condition

CLINICAL EFFICIENCY ASSESSMENT*

- + 80% reported reduction of pore appearance
- + 80% reported improved skin smoothness appearance
- + 90% reported improved skin softness sensation
- + 63% In a reduction of skin redness was observed
- + 80% In a reduction of skin oiliness was observed
- + Up to 87% indicated an improvement on the perception of quality-of-life

* Percentage of subjects with improvement of skin feel or appearance

The “HeiQ Synbio Skin Repair” facial cream positively influences the skin condition by installing and maintaining a positive skin microbiome, resulting in a cleaner and more balanced skin.

2022. Allergisa. “Assessment of topical product efficacy through instrumental measurement, clinical efficacy, efficacy against inflammatory and non-inflammatory vulgar acne, image analysis and self-assessment on acne quality of life index by the study subjects under normal use conditions (E000237-A)”. 35 test subjects.

HeiQ Chrissal’s ground-breaking synbiotic personal care products are available as finished products or white label products.

Contact us to learn more:
HeiQ Chrissal
synbio@heiq.com